

NEWS RELEASE
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CONTACT:
Kristina Godfrey
Junger-Godfrey PR
kristina@kjunger.com
949.720.7062

KoreOne Launches a Creative Services Division

New Line Offers “Unmatched Set of Creative and Design Solutions”

NEWPORT BEACH, CA, January 19, 2010 – KoreOne Technologies, a leading IT staffing firm, recently announced the addition of a highly specialized Creative Services division.

The new division offers unprecedented access to a formidable creative consultant network, and an unmatched set of benefits including a flexible and mobile workforce, reduced lead time in hiring resources, and quality assurance in the world of fast-approaching deadlines.

“It’s a good fit,” said KoreOne General Manager Steve Quarles. “This is a natural and necessary evolution for our company. Today’s workplace demands competent, creative thought leaders who can offer clients insight and expertise on web design, and deliver compelling digital solutions.”

KoreOne’s creative consultants exhibit unique skill sets, providing a level and scope of services well beyond the accepted standards. Flexibility in tailoring solutions to the individual needs of clients is also a feature of the new division. “Consultants can partner with clients, singly or in teams,” said Quarles, “and will work to identify new opportunities that will drive business and positively impact the bottom line; guide and assist design strategy from start to finish; verify decisions through analytical rigor; and, ultimately, deliver flawless, web-based experiences.”

KoreOne Creative Services offers staffing solutions for Content Strategy & Management; User Experience (UX) Design; Visual Design; Interactive Development; Creative Director; Digital Artist; Graphic Designer; Business Analysis; Copywriting, and more.

For additional information about KoreOne Creative Services, please contact Steve Quarles, General Manager.

###

KoreOne is a leading provider of technical and IT staff augmentation solutions, with customers ranging in size from start-ups to Fortune 500 enterprises. The firm delivers highly skilled consultants when and how they are needed most, via contract, contract-to-hire, and direct hire IT recruiting services. KoreOne places heavy emphasis on internal hiring, database technology integration, ongoing internal training, and customer service, and has earned a reputation among companies and consultants as being fair dealing and highly customer service-oriented. For more information, visit www.koreone.com.